Chapter 13, Section 3

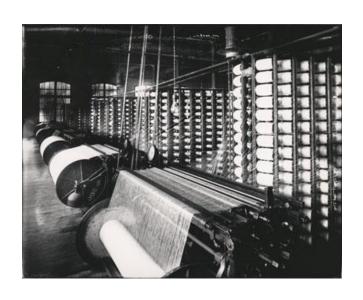

Southern Cotton Kingdom

- □ 1. How did the agricultural and population patterns change in the South from 1790 to 1850?
 - In the 1790's people lived and grew crops primarily along Atlantic Coast in Upper South (Maryland, Virginia, & North Carolina).

- 1850's the population and agriculture spread inland to the Deep South (Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, & Texas)

1820 1860 Virginia Virginia. Missouri Missouri Kentucky Kentucky North North Tennessee Carolina Tennessee Carolina Arkansas Territory Arkansas South South Carolina Miss Miss Georgia Georgia Texas Texas Alabama Alabama ATLANTIC ATLANTIC OCEAN Louisiana OCEAN Gulf of Mexico Gulf of Mexico 200 kilometers 200 kilometers Major cotton-producing Major cotton-producing 200 miles 200 miles areas, 1820 areas, 1860 Albers Equal-Area projection Albers Equal-Area projection

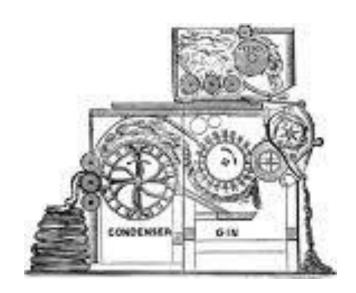

- □ 2. The Southern economy was expanding rapidly and relied heavily on slavery.
 - In colonial times, rice, indigo, and tobacco were the South's main crops.
 - European and American textile mills now demanded cotton.

3. The invention of the Cotton Gin by Eli Whitney dramatically increased the production of cotton.

Cotton Gin Video

- □ 4. Eli Whitney's Cotton Gin had important consequences. List 2:
 - Worker could clean 50 times more cotton with machine than by hand.
 - Farmers wanted to grow more cotton to increase their profits. This then increased the need for more slaves.
 - Gin was small enough for a person to carry from place to place.

- •5. How did the economies of the Deep South and the Upper South develop in different ways?
 - ■- Upper South produced tobacco, hemp, wheat, and vegetables.
 - ■- Upper South became center for the sale and trade of enslaved people.
 - Deep South primarily produced cotton but in some areas rice and sugarcane.

- □ 6. List three reasons industry in the South developed slowly?
 - a. Cotton sales were extremely profitable.
 - b. Southerners lacked the capital to invest in businesses.
 - c. The market for manufactured good was small since the large population of enslaved people had no money to buy merchandise.
 - d. Many Southerners did not want industry.

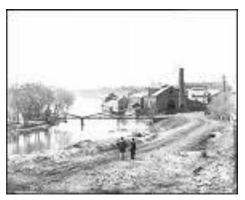

□ 7. Give two examples of successful Southern industrialists and what did they produce?

- William Gregg opened a successful textile factory in South Carolina.
- Joseph Reid Anderson iron production. During the Civil War his company produced artillery and other iron products for the South.

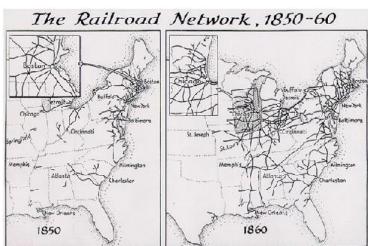

8. Explain the differences between transportation lines in the North and South.

- In both regions most towns were located along water but in the South few canals existed and roads were poor.
- South had fewer railroads than the North. In the South they were short, local, and not interlinked.
- By 1860, only 1/3 of the nation's rail lines were in the South. This shortage seriously hindered the South during the Civil War

Chapter 13, section 4
The South's People

#1 - Define:

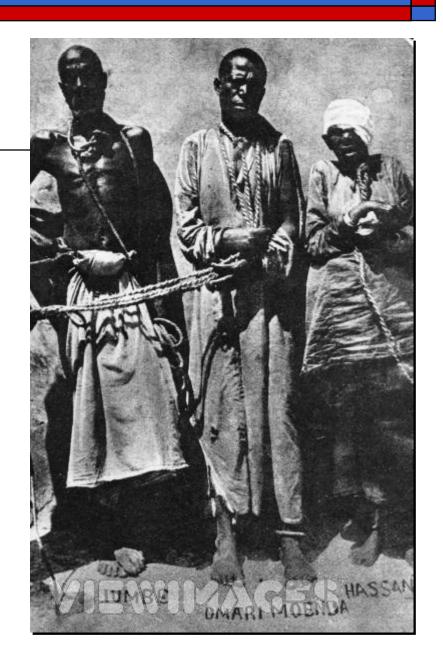

- ☐ Yeoman farmers who did not have enslaved workers
 - □ Tenant Farmers white farmers who rented land
 - □ Slave Codes laws that Southern states that controlled enslaved people

2.

- □ Describe the typical Yeoman Farmers' way of life: (size of farm, crops, where they lived)
 - Largest group of whites in the South
 - Most owned land 50-200 acres
 - Grew crops for own use, sell or trade
 - Most lived in Upper South or hilly areas in Deep South

3.

□ About what percent of plantations owned 20 or more slaves? 4% Most slaveholders held fewer than 10 slaves.

4.

- □ What was the main economic goal of large plantation owners?
 - To EARN PROFITS!

□ Why did planters use agents?

5.

- They wanted to wait to sell their cotton until the price rose.
- □ Under this system, how did planters pay their expenses?
 - With credit from their agents

6

- Describe the life of a typical plantation wife.
 - Supervised buildings, fruit & veggie gardens
 - Watched over domestic slaves
 - Kept financial records
 - Often quite lonely

7.

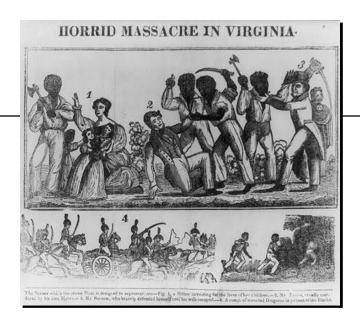

- What were four kinds of jobs done by enslaved workers?
 - Housework
 - Skilled crafts
 - Pasture work
 - Field work

#8.

What was one of the worst fears African American held living as a slave?

Being separated from family

- #9.

 Why did slaves maintain a strong extended family life?
 - To try and create SOME stability in their lives.
 - Because families could be separated (sold).
- What roles did Christianity play in African American slave lives?
 - Gave them hope
 - Helped slaves to communicate secretly

□ What was one of the main purposes of the Slave Codes?

■ Laws to control slaves – prevent revolts

- ☐ List some of the restrictions the slave codes had on African American slaves.
 - Prohibited assembly in large groups
 - Required written pass to leave property
 - Crime to teach a slave to read or write

11.

□ Who was Nat Turner and what did he do?

- Popular religious leader self taught to read/write
- Led brief rebellion killed 55 whites in Virginia
- Caught and hanged struck FEAR into the Southern whites

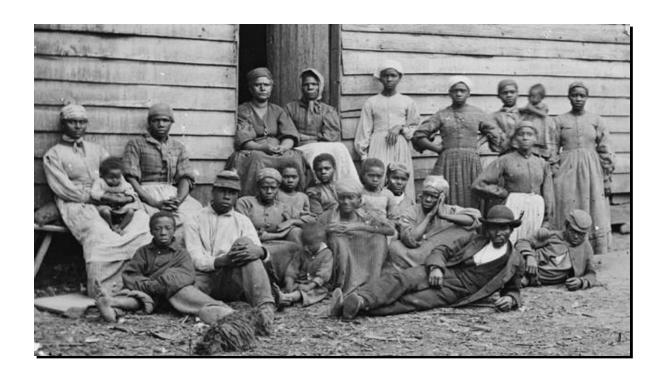

12.

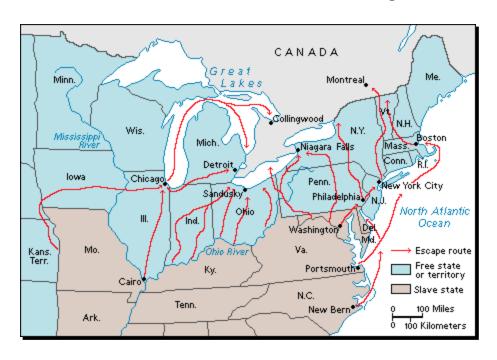

13. What were some non-violent ways slaves resisted their owners?

- Working slowly or pretending to be ill
- Set fire to plantation buildings or break tools

was the Underground Railroad? What happened to most runaways?

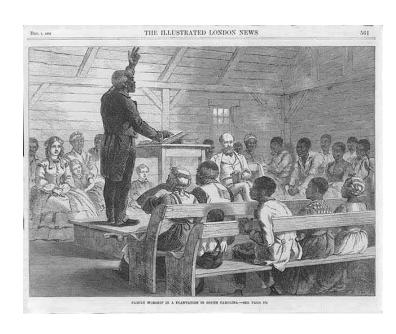

- Network of "safe houses" offered aid to escaping slaves
- Most were caught and return severe punishment!

What opportunities did free African Americans have in Southern cities? What limitations?

- Formed own communities, practiced trades and founded churches and institutions
- Limitations: not allowed to move from state to state, denied equal share in economic / political life

Why did many Southern families NOT send their kids to public schools?

Lived too far apart

17. What "philosophy" did many Southerners have about education?

■ Was a private matter — not a state function

